WHAT ARE THE RISKS AND WHAT COULD I GET IN RETURN?

Summary Risk indicator (SRI)

The summary risk indicator assumes you keep the product for a recommended period of 5 years. The actual risk can vary significantly if you cash-in (sell) at an early stage and you may get back less. You may not be able to send your product easily or you may have to sell at a price that significantly impacts on how much you get back.

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of the TRANSI share compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product loses money because of movements in the markets.

We have classified this product as 5 out of 7, which is a medium to high-risk class. This product does not include any protection from future market performance so you could lose some or all of your investment.

Other significant risks relevant to TRANSI shares which are not included in the summary risk indicator include: counterparty risk, liquidity risk (related to TRANSI shares, i.e., risk induced by Transilvania Investments Alliance's investments in unlisted financial instruments) and operational risk. Another important risk not included in the risk indicator is the regulatory one, which can negatively affect the return on investment.

The financial instruments in which Transilvania Investments Alliance invests have historically been subject to significant price movements that may suddenly occur depending on the market factors or the companies' activity, thus the Company's performance over time may fluctuate.
